SUMMERTIME STRESS AND FUN
Until Tuesday, it would have been difficult to convince an artist that inspiration for a painting could survive the din of 44 canoe enthusiasts preparing to launch their crafts. Although somewhat disturbed initially by the intrusion, this artist proceeded with great skill to portray on canvas the scene before her as members of the Living Lord Lutheran Church, of Howland (Warren) Ohio, prepared for their three-day trip down the Allegheny River to Emlenton. The group was led by its pastor, the Rev. Paul Fuchs and 16 of the 22 canoes were supplied by Allegheny Outfitters of Clarendon. The scene is the launching area at Crescent Park. The completed artwork may be seen at the Festival of Arts next week in Warren. (Photo by Clever)

Teen-agers Face Murder Charge In Fiery Deaths

PARKERSBURG, W. Va. (AP) — Two teen-agers were charged with murder Tuesday in the fiery deaths of their parents and 10 brothers and sisters in their home Sunday. Susan Bailey, 15, and her brother, Roger, 13, were led crying into Wood County Circuit Court for a preliminary hearing. The hearing was continued pending reports of psychiatric examinations and an investigation by the Wood County Child Welfare Department. The youngsters were charged by Prosecutor Bruce White with setting the fire which rapidly swept through the family's eight-room frame home in the predawn hours Sunday. Only their grandfather, Obie Bailey, 63, managed to escape from the house, which authorities said burned "like a piece of paper."

Sheriff L.W. Bechtold said investigators found evidence that the house had been splashed with gasoline. He said mattresses had been soaked with it. Susan and Roger had said they were sleeping in a nearby two-room structure and were forced to watch helplessly as the house burned. Bechtold said his deputies, at the scene of the fire, reported seeing several members of the family trying to escape, including the parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bailey. He said the heat prevented rescue.

One deputy sheriff said he saw the mother moving about inside the flaming house with a child. The mother was screaming, "Oh my God, help us," she said. Bechtold said the children would be permitted to attend the funeral for all 12 members of the family here Wednesday afternoon, but that they probably could not attend the burial at Elizabeth, in Wirt County, which neighbors this Ohio River Valley area in western West Virginia.

Y'ville Council Buys Land For New Borough Reservoir

By FRANCES RHODES
Youngsville borough council has purchased 0.916 acres of land from Hill Enterprises, Youngsville, for the location of a new borough reservoir, according to an announcement by borough manager James Malone.

The transaction was completed for a consideration of $200, and the deed has already been recorded at the county court house.

The site overlooks Youngsville, included in the purchase are the necessary right-of-ways for ingress and egress to the proposed reservoir, and maintenance of arterial lines. The new reservoir will replace two now owned by a borough resident, Richard Inter, as a result of tax sale proceedings, and it will be larger than their combined capacities.

Malone also announced two forthcoming meetings of borough officials, that are of considerable community concern. On Friday, June 20 at 1:30 p.m., officials of the state traffic department will consult with the local officers on traffic problems. Of principal concern is the borough request for signals to improve safety at the West Main Street and Railroad Street exits from the new Rte 6 bypass.

Also likely to come up for discussion is the borough's request of more than a year ago for a grant to help defray costs of new traffic lights at the two main intersections in Youngsville. Page 2

Assistant DA to Speak At WAHS Commencement

Warren Assistant District Attorney John E. Eberly will be the main speaker at Warren Area High School's commencement ceremonies tonight at 8 p.m. in the high school auditorium. A 1956 alumnus of Warren High School, Eberly graduated in 1961 from Pennsylvania Military Academy. He received his law degree from Western Reserve's law school in Cleveland, Ohio, in 1964.

Eberly served two years as an officer in the U.S. Army, including a tour of duty in Vietnam and was awarded the Bronze Star. The son of Mrs. Albert Eberly and the late Dr. Eberly of Warren, he is a member of the Warren County School District Board of Education. He is also on the board of the YMCA and acts as coach of the girls' swimming team there.

In 1965 he was admitted to the bar. Eberly is currently associated with S. Knox Harper and William Clinger in the practice of law and is a member of the Pennsylvania Bar Association. Eberly and his wife, Virginia, reside at 17 Fourth ave. with their son, John, 21 months. Other area commencement speakers are Richard E. Deems, president of Hearst Magazines, who will speak at Youngsville High School tonight and Dr. Robert Kapp, a graduate of Tidoute High School, who will speak at his Alma Mater tonight at 8 p.m. Deems has been president of Hearst Magazines since 1960. He is a director of the Hearst Corp., the Hearst Foundation, the National Magazine Co. of London, the Omega Publishing Co. of Miami, the Advertising See SPEAKERS, Page 2

Nixon Says Next Step Up to Reds

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon, returning from Midway, said Tuesday that by ordering withdrawal of 25,000 American soldiers from Vietnam the United States has "opened wide the door to peace."

If the Communists do not reciprocate, he said, "they must bear the responsibility for blocking the road."

President Nguyen Van Thieu of South Vietnam "completely approves and supports the eight-point peace program that I set forth in my May 14 speech to the nation," the President said.

The meeting with Thieu Sunday "brought home the message that the troops of South Vietnam have now been trained and equipped to the point where they can take over a substantial portion of the combat activity presently being borne by Americans," Nixon said.

"That meeting means that after five years, in which more and more Americans have been sent to Vietnam, we finally have reached the point where we can begin to bring Americans home from Vietnam."

But, the President said, "this does not mean the war is over.

There are negotiations still to be undertaken; there is fighting still to be done until we reach the point where we can have peace."

American troop strength in Vietnam presently is 538,000.

After his statement Nixon went into the White House for a briefing of Republican and Democratic congressional leaders. He returned home to qualified approval from both hawks and doves in Congress.

Secretary of State William P. Rogers said on his arrival from Midway that the U.S. pullback by the end of August provides an opportunity for the North Vietnamese if they are interested in de-escalating this war, to respond by withdrawing their forces to North Vietnam.

Radio Hanoi, meanwhile, announced the formation of a "revolutionary government to rule South Vietnam" to be known as "The Republic of South Vietnam Temporary Revolutionary Government." It indicated this government was to last only until a formal Communist-dominated government could be formed.

In Congress, the word "escalated"—once meaning a beefing up—now means a beefing down. See NIXON, Page 2

Treasury Secretary Asks Extension of Surtax

WASHINGTON (AP) — With a warning that the country could be "close to runaway inflation," Secretary of the Treasury David M. Kennedy appealed Tuesday for prompt extension of the 10 per cent surtax.

As Kennedy faced a news conference, the government announced a jump of eight-tenths of one per cent in the official wholesale price index. The rise was blamed on an unusually sharp jump in wholesale food prices last month which is certain to spell further news in higher grocery prices later this summer.

Prices of farm products climbed 4.6 per cent while processed foods and feeds rose 1.8 per cent in May, said the Bureau of Labor Statistics.

"This is an unusually sharp increase," said a spokesman for the bureau. "I'm a little bit mystified."

The increase was substantially larger than an earlier estimate by the bureau, which has also consistently underestimated this year's sharpest rise in living costs in 18 years.

Kennedy predicted Congress will extend the surtax. And despite Monday's rise of the basic bank interest rate to a record 8 1/2 per cent, Kennedy said a "credit crunch" like that of 1966 can be avoided.

Defense Dept. Shoots Down Manned Orbiting Laboratory

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon shot down the nation's only military man-in-space project, the $3-billion Manned Orbiting Laboratory, Tuesday. The reason: "continuing urgency" to cut spending.

The cancellation was announced by Deputy Secretary of Defense David Packard, who acknowledged "We're giving up for the time being" the idea of a military mission for men in space.

The action is expected to save close to $300 million in the new fiscal year which begins July 1 and about $1.5 billion over the next five years. Some $1.3 billion already has been spent since 1963.

The MOL project, which contemplated sending two-man teams to live and work in a "shirt-sleeve" environment in a space capsule for 30 days at a time, was at least 2 1/2 years behind schedule. Its price had escalated about 50 per cent.

The Nixon administration previously had sliced some $1.1 billion from the Johnson administration's farewell defense budget of $79 billion.

Packard also cited advances in unmanned satellite systems for such purposes as research, communications, navigation and meteorology.

There have been persistent reports that the MOL, which would have been launched near polar orbit travelling over both Russia and China, would have had a spy mission as well, but Packard would not discuss this aspect.

The MOL was announced in December 1963 by then Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara, at the same time he killed off another Air Force project, the Dynascan space glider.

Air Force generals long have argued the United States should have military craft in space to inspect and destroy, if necessary, hostile satellites.

Packard told reporters the major reasons for the schedule slippage in the MOL program but was gradually delayed to mid-1972.

As conceived, the Air Force planned to send aloft a 30,000-pound, 72-foot-long spacecraft, atop a Titan III rocket booster with two million pounds of thrust.

Justice Brennan Quits Teaching Post at Seminar

WASHINGTON (AP) — Supreme Court Justice William J. Brennan Jr. has quit his teaching post at a summer seminar for judges, it was learned Tuesday.

Brennan quit the faculty of the Appellate Judges' Seminar, held annually at New York University since 1956, 10 days to two weeks ago, the director, Prof. Robert Leflar, told a reporter.

Leflar, a University of Arkansas law professor, spoke in a telephone interview from Little Rock.

Leflar said he understood Brennan is severing all off-bench activities "except his membership in his church."

The nonjudicial affiliations of Supreme Court justices has been a subject of scrutiny and controversy since Abe Fortas's relations with the Wolfson Family Foundation were exposed last month. Fortas subsequently quit the court.

The seminar director said Chief Justice-designate Warren E. Burger is scheduled to continue on the faculty this summer.

However, Leflar said, he understood Burger will drop out also if the U.S. Judicial Conference calls for restrictions on such activities.

The conference, the 25-member policymaking arm of the federal judiciary, met at the Supreme Court Tuesday on special call of retiring Chief Justice Earl Warren. The judges are considering restrictive curbs on the nonjudicial conduct of federal judges.

Brennan has taught at the seminar each summer since 1958, except for one year when he was abroad. Burger has been on the faculty eight years.

Leflar was unable to say exactly how much expense money has been paid to Brennan and Burger because he said the information was at his university office in Fayetteville.

But Leflar estimated Burger received about $2,000 and Brennan "two and possibly three times as much."

The director explained that Brennan taught the full two-week seminar, five days a week, six hours a day, for 10 days, while Burger attended usually for two or three days at a time.

The last two years, Leflar said, he sent Burger checks for $400 rather than have him itemize meals and other expenses. Each time, the judge returned $100, saying his expenses had not gone that high, Leflar related.

The seminar is a refresher course for state supreme court judges and federal appeals court judges.

Dean Robert McKay of New York University Law School described it as a hard-working session, designed partly to discuss and develop judicial techniques and administration.

The seminar is operated by the Institute for Judicial Administration. Leflar said the institute receives gifts from foundations. He said the principal contributor is the N.Y.U. Law Center Foundation.

He confirmed that one of the contributors is West Publishing Co., a St. Paul, Minn., publisher of lawbooks.

Prices

price ceilings were possible if the surtax expires at midyear and inflation worsens, Kennedy replied that "a lot of things are possible."

But government policy is against wage-price controls and he personally opposes them, Kennedy said. They are among the last-resort weapons, he suggested, adding:

"We cannot allow a runaway inflation to develop in this country. We could be very close to that now."

Meantime the capital's concern over inflation increased, and officials showed their concern over the apparently spreading sentiment in Congress against Nixon's request for extension of the 10 per cent surtax beyond its June 30 expiration date and repeal of the 7 per cent investment credit.

Rep. Wright Patman, D-Tex., chairman of the House Banking committee, urged Nixon to pull government deposits from banks that raised their prime rate—the interest rate charged on loans to the banks' biggest and best customers—from 7 1/2 to 8 1/2 per cent.

In a letter to the President, Patman charged that the prime rate increase was a bankers' conspiracy which, he said, could force the country into a severe recession.

The May price escalation was 18.6 per cent for fruits and vegetables, 8.1 per cent for live stock and 6.1 per cent for processed meats, poultry and fish.

Consumer prices have been advancing in recent months at a rate of roughly 5 per cent a year, and interest rates have climbed to levels recalling the near-crisis of 1966 when credit became virtually unobtainable at any price.

Nixon

up of U.S. forces in Vietnam—was being used in reverse context: it now is being used for troop withdrawals.

Sen. John Sparkman, D-Ala., a hawk, said he was disappointed that the withdrawal did not involve at least 50,000 troops. Another hard-liner, Sen. Peter H. Dominick, R. Colo., insisted South Vietnam "is not yet qualified to handle both the Viet Cong and the North Vietnamese."

But Sen. John G. Tower, R. Tex., said the growing military capability of Saigon's troops enable this to pull out American forces "without downgrading our military posture or sacrificing our military initiative."

Sen. Hugh Scott, R-Pa., the assistant minority leader, said that to withdraw 200,000 men as Sen. Stephen M. Young, D. Ohio suggested—would leave the remaining Americans "subject to an immense slaughter, and I say let that blood be on someone else's hands."

The Nixon-Thieu announcement indicated more troops will be pulled out later, but the White House said there is no numerical target for the year.

Sen. Dominick said he suspects Nixon has fixed a limit at which additional withdrawals will cease if there is no significant counter-move by Hanoi.

'Clowns' Is Funny Play With A Real Message

By WALT ERBLAND

Plovrigh Playhouse launched its third season Tuesday with Herb Gardner's "A Thousand Clowns"—a million count 'em, a million laughs.

Murray Burns a one-time, some time television writer who has found the ultimate solution to the Monday morning blues—unemployment, is admirably played by Jerry Doff.

Bruce Porter, Warren's only offering in the cast, considering his age (he's only ten) is perhaps the best local talent to be seen here in several seasons. Bruce is captivating, ingenious, as Burn's painfully precocious nephew.

Marjorie Melnick, a hit here in several summer theatre productions last year, cries and laughs her way with perfection through the role of Sandra Markowitz, a psychologist who abandons her text books finally for the lessons of the whacky world of "Clowns".

Fine support was given by Ron Smith as Arnold Burns, brother to Murray and Kenn Long who was very funny as a somewhat Dixieish Jewish neurotic who makes his living as a chipmunk.

The cast plays well together enthusiastically, perhaps some times too much so, but mostly

Judges Ban Compensation For Off-Bench Activities

WASHINGTON (AP) — The conference on ethics today forbade federal judges—but not Supreme Court justices—to accept loans, gifts, fees or "compensation of any kind" for off-bench activities.

The conference, with Chief Justice Earl Warren presiding also directed all federal judges to file a statement of their investments and other assets annually.

The 25-judge conference met in a special session at Warren's direction. Its resolutions also called on a committee to draft legislation to insure the conference could enforce its orders.

The conference was called following public disclosures of Abe Fortas's relations with the Wolfson Family Foundation and his subsequent resignation from the Supreme Court.

Judge Robert A. Ainsworth Jr. of the U.S. Circuit Court in New Orleans and Ernest C. Friesen Jr., director of the Administrative Office of the United States Courts, discussed the deliberations with newsmen.

Ainsworth was chairman of an 11-judge committee that drafted proposals for the conference's consideration. He said they were adopted by "an overwhelming majority" with very little change.

Both Ainsworth and Friesen said the Judicial Conference has no authority over justices of the Supreme Court and that the 25 judges who make up the conference were fully aware of this.

The conference comprises in addition to Warren the chief judges of each of the 11 federal circuits, one district judge from each circuit and the ranking judges of the Claims Court and the Customs and Patent Appeals Court.

Chief Justice-designate Warren E. Burger declined an invitation to attend the conference. He is not a member.

Ainsworth said the ban on compensation does not include expenses.

The resolution on annual filing of investments and assets requires a report on the calendar year by the following May 15. The first reports are due next May 15.

Interest Raise

Catches Johnson

Totally Unaware

Congressman Albert W. Johnson said yesterday in a telephone interview from Washington with the Times-Mirror and Observer that he and his colleagues on the banking and currency committee were caught completely off guard by the announced increase to 8 1/2 per cent in the prime interest rate and that he would join with other members of the committee in trying to stop this spiraling of interest rates without justification.

Johnson said that up until Monday the increases in the prime interest rate were properly explained as necessary to control inflationary pressures in the nation's economy. "But the increase to 8 1/2 per cent is entirely unjustifiable," Johnson said. He said that a prime interest rate of 8 per cent could be justified in the attempt to hold down unnecessary expenditures.

"As a member of the subcommittee on urban growth of the banking and currency committee," Johnson said, "I have been concerned with the problems that will be created by the increase in population by one million by the year 2000." One of the impediments to solving this problem, he said, lies in the high cost of materials and construction for housing and the high interest rates for home financing.

Congressman Johnson said that Congress will not stand for any further increases in the prime interest rate; and in fact, he said he feels that there is a good possibility that the interest rate will be lowered.

Five Nabbed In Corry Car Theft

CORRY — City police charged four Corry men with larceny of a motor vehicle within 24 hours of the auto theft Friday night. All are under 25 years of age.

George E. Coons, 18; John J. Willis, 19; Frederick Carter, 21; and William Johnson, 24, were charged. A 16-year-old who accompanied them will have a juvenile petition filed against him.

Police stated that Coons, Willis and Carter left an all-night diner on East Main st., stepped outside and were invited to go for a ride by an unidentified driver. The three agreed.

But the car wouldn't start, so the group began pushing it. Finally Coons, Willis and Carter went to the nearby parking lot of Corry-Jamestown Plant 1, where they found a car with the ignition keys inside.

They used that car, owned by Robert C. May of Bear Lake, to push the stalled vehicle until they finally abandoned the stalled auto. Then the three, along with the juvenile, drove in the stolen car to the Ajax Iron Works to pick up Johnson.

The group took off for a night-long joy ride before abandoning the May vehicle in a playground. Police estimated damage to the car at $100.

Youngsville

the town at the junction of Rte 27 and old Rte 6, and at the junction of East Main Street and Railroad Street.

The former light is not now functioning, and is beyond repair, according to Malone. Total cost of a new signal system at the two locations would be between $6,000 and $8,000, he stated.

Next Monday night Youngsville borough council will meet in an adjourned session to discuss their findings when they surveyed the proposed recreational development area related service road location in the vicinity of the Brokenstraw Valley Swimming Pool, Thatcher Lane, last Saturday. They will meet first at the corner of Fifth and Division Streets, at 7:30 p.m., to walk the area again, and then will move to the borough building to "try to resolve some of the problems," according to Councilman James Cowan.

It is anticipated that residents of the Fifth Street area and members of the Recreation Commission, two particularly concerned groups, will attend and assist in the discussions.

City Evicts Those 111 Cats

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Woman's Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals and the city evicted 111 cats Tuesday from a house rented especially for them.

Neighbors expressed relief. Last week Frances Christopher and Joseph Koshinsky confirmed they paid $30-a-month rent for a three-room house for the cats, and also paid the $8 a day food bill.

Neighbors complained of the noise and odor and Tuesday about half a dozen men in three trucks rolled up to the house.

They located Mrs. Christopher at her home elsewhere in the neighborhood and told her of their plans.

"What's going to happen to my cats?" she asked.

Robert T. Addlesberger, a special agent for the Women's SPCA, said they would be taken to an animal shelter and held there until authorities decided their fate.

"I realize you are an animal lover," said Addlesberger, "But we just cannot have the conditions that exist here."

The men moved in with nets and boxes. One cat leaped out of a net and got away.

After the last animal was removed, a chemical fogging machine filled the house with fog to kill the odor.

Management Group To Elect Officers

The Purchasing Management Association of Northwestern Pennsylvania will hold its monthly meeting in Cross Creek Country Club, Titusville. Officers will be elected for the coming year, according to J. F. Hannan, of the association's public relations staff.

Roger Hornsfield will conduct an all-day seminar on electronic data processing, with emphasis placed on the purchasing function.

Attempt to Override Governor's Veto On Miner's Asthma Bill Fails in Senate

HARRISBURG (AP) — An attempt to override Gov. Shafer's veto on a bill to increase payments to miner's asthma victims was defeated in the Senate Tuesday when it failed to receive the necessary two-thirds majority.

The vote was 26-20 to override, short of the 34 votes needed. All 22 Democrats present and four Republicans voted in favor of the override, while 20 Republicans voted to sustain the veto.

At least one senator, Preston B. Davis, R-Northumberland, said he would have voted with the Democrats to override the veto, but changed his mind after a speech by Sen. William J. Lane, D-Washington, which was critical of Gov. Shafer.

While no other senator publicly admitted he changed his mind because of the speech, at least two senate Republican leaders told newsmen the speech killed the chance to mock down the veto.

The governor vetoed the miner's bill last Friday, after it passed the House in a 130-60 vote, and was approved by the senate, 43-2. Shafer's reason — the same he gave in vetoing a similar bill last year — was that the bill had no accompanying revenue measure to pay for the increase.

The legislation would have raised monthly benefits from $75 to $100.

In other legislative action: — The House Appropriations Committee released to the floor a bill that would appropriate $53,678,000 to finance the state scholarship program in the 1969-70 fiscal year. Committee chairman Martin P. Mullen, D-Philadelphia, said the bill was moved at this time so the scholarship agency could begin awarding grants for the coming school year.

—House Democratic leaders proposed $126 million in cuts from Gov. Shafer's proposed $2.52 billion budget for the next fiscal year, but cautioned they have new programs of their own to add.

— A bill introduced in the Hospital Time Could Count Toward Bonus

HARRISBURG (AP) — The House gave unanimous approval Tuesday to a bill that would credit wounded Vietnam veterans with time spent in military hospitals in figuring their state bonus.

Under a law enacted this year, every Pennsylvanian who has served or will serve in the war is entitled to $25 for every month spent in Vietnam up to a maximum $750.

The House bill, which now goes to the Senate, would allow veterans to count time spent in stateside hospitals for treatment of wounds or service-connected diseases or injuries.

Senate would establish state grants for projects to educate the public and students on the drug abuse.

— The House passed a bill that would alter Pennsylvania's three-year old driver point system by providing for safe driving credits.

Lane, in his speech, said Shafer failed to recognize moral responsibility in vetoing the legislation.

"He (Shafer) has asked the legislature to act in what he feels is a responsible way," Lane said. "Yet he, himself, has demonstrated irresponsibility in vetoing this bill for reasons other than its content."

Lane referred to Shafer's statements that he agreed with the principle of the legislation, but could not sign it because there was no accompanying revenue measure.

After Lane's speech, however, Davis said, "I have consistently voted in favor of this legislation. But I have changed my vote since I came on the floor of the Senate."

He accused the Democrats of making the miner's legislation a political issue, and added: "I'm not going to sit here and have my governor, the leader of the Republican Party, condemned and scolded unmercifully."

Senate Democratic Leader Ernest P. Kline, D-Beaver, retorted: "Let's vote as we want to vote and not have any phony excuses."

"I see nothing in the speech that would make this a political issue. You can't use the speech as an excuse to change your vote."

The original motion to override the veto was made by Sen.

Clarendon Boro Council Seeks Old School Building

At the meeting of the Clarendon Boro Council Monday evening in the Boro Building, it was voted to contact the Warren County School District in reference to securing the present school building on Main street when it is vacated to move into the new elementary school building now under construction.

Other transactions included: Unanimous vote authorizing paving of Anchor, Weaver, and Center streets, work to begin immediately. The low bid of Western Asphalt Paving Company of Franklin, of $4,956, was accepted.

Council voted $25 contribution to the Marshall Larson V.F.W. Post 314, to help defray expenses for the Clarendon Memorial Day services.

An ordinance was approved, to set up a bicycle registration program for the Clarendon community.

Council members agreed to attend the county sewage meeting scheduled for June 26 at the Court House.

It was unanimously voted to reconstruct sewers on Winger avenue and lower Main near Erie st., work to begin at once.

A request for a fire hydrant near the Allegheny-Buffalo China Company was referred to the Fire and Water committee for further study.

The treasurer reported a bank balance of $5,484.55 as of June 1, 1969.

Councilmen present: Keith Gilfert, Joseph Montore, Wayne Kinch, Ray Warren, Mayor Myron Bullock, Borough secretary Mrs. Marcella Olson and treasurer Milley.

The oath of office was administered to George Rea as new councilman, by Mayor Bullock. Rea fills the unexpired term of Robert Walker.

Guests attending the council meeting included John Riggie, Donald Pratt, Arthur Fleiger and Ben Hofer.

Martin L. Murray, D-Luzerne, and seconded by Sen. Arthur A. Piasecki, R-Lackawanna. In addition to Piasecki, Republicans voting with the Democrats to override the veto were Sens. Frederick H. Hobbs, R-Schuylkill; T. Newell Wood, R-Luzerne and William B. Lentz, R-Dauphin.

Cooperation

The kind of community cooperation that really counts is the announcement by the Corps of Engineers that the public will be able to make self-conducted tours of the inside of the Kinzua Dam on weekends and holidays. Jack Ewers, dam manager, suggested the idea to the Pittsburgh office some time ago, but certain safety features had to be installed and a trial of the plan had to be conducted to determine the amount of interference with normal operation procedures.

Ewers states that the trials were highly successful due to public cooperation and that while the passage of the public through the dam is a slight inconvenience to his staff, the opportunity afforded the touring public is worth the trouble.

While it is felt to be impractical at this time, it is thought that at some time in the future it may be possible to make the tours a daily attraction throughout the tourist season.

The Corps is to be commended for the efforts they are making to see that those visiting the Warren community and the Kinzua Dam area are afforded every opportunity to have a pleasurable experience. They have gone to great lengths to accommodate the thousands of fishermen visiting the tailwaters for the fabulous fishing to be had there. They installed safety fences, rented portable toilets, and constructed concrete steps down the steep bank. Now they are engaged in constructing a fisherman's ramp and fishing pier on the east bank as a part of the Big Bend Recreation Center which is to be constructed as soon as the Hunkin-Conkey firm has moved from the property.

The Warren area should appreciate these efforts.

The Prize of Victory

SAN FRANCISCO -- What this century needs is a substitute for war. The kind of holocaust to which man lent himself until 1945 is appallingly brutal and evil and has now also become totally impractical if humanity is to survive. Therefore, although the habit of limited fighting may unhappily continue, man's instinct, if not his intellect, seems to refuse immolation as a political solution. This fact has curious economic implications. War's shock treatment is in the long run often more beneficial to the losers than the winners. The most blazing example is that of heroic Britain. Britain held freedom's fort alone in 1940, staged the most glamorous victory parade afterwards, and has been sliding downhill ever since.

Of the first 10 contemporary powers only the United States, Canada, Britain and India escaped massive destruction plus occupation of all or much of their territory. All the others were either totally or partially defeated and overrun -- Russia, West Germany, France, Japan, China, Italy. And no. 11 and 12 on the list rating Gross National Product are once-enslaved Poland and East Germany.

In the end victory doesn't always pay. Of course, countries separated by water or distance from potential occupying forces could, as in North America, not only continue normal industrial progress but have it accelerated by the need to help less fortunate nations after the fighting stopped. And India, which suffered bloody shock treatment during the agonies of partition, received enormous injections of U. S. help.

Britain, the most striking example of how to lose by winning, a nation which sacrificed power while gaining splendid triumph, received none of the advantages of defeat attained by its commercial rivals Germany and Japan. Not only did it lose an empire it could no longer afford; it lost world markets and, because its plant was essentially undestroyed, it entered the postwar trade rivalry heavily in debt and with obsolescent machines -- the price of victory.

Not so Germany, France, Japan and Italy. All were more or less in the condition of humpty dumpty when the fighting stopped. They were painstakingly put together, primarily by American generosity, so that within a decade their industrial output was beginning to expand efficiently.

Russia and China were special exceptions. With immense courage the Soviet Union had transported machinery to Siberia during the German advance; it ended the war with a spate of new mushroom towns in the East and the framework of ravaged industrial towns in the West. These were energized with huge seizures of German and Japanese (from Manchuria) reparations in the form of equipment, China's appreciably smaller industrialization was helped by enormous Soviet aid.

Some of the most talented manufacturing peoples on earth, although paying an incredible fee in blood and suffering, had their production facilities completely revamped and modernized as the consequence of war. Perhaps only

England, the saddest and least generously recompensed victor in history, got nothing but glory.

Of course it received great economic and financial help from America plus sizable reparations. Yet it entered the century's third quarter with substantially the same -- and consequently "demode" -- industrial plant as that with which it entered the second quarter.

One can go on specifying exceptions and drawing subconclusions. France, for example, was both temporary loser and ultimate winner, only partially occupied and relatively less destroyed. But France also has Europe's richest and most balanced economic base and astounding powers of recuperation, in evidence since the 15th Century.

The point that bears emphasis is the twin case of Germany and Japan, major losers of World War II. Both had been impressive manufacturing countries and each was almost totally destroyed. Yet each was so formidably assisted by the victorious U.S. that today West Germany alone, with its modern factories and machines, is no. 3 industrial power in the world -- after America and Russia.

Were it reunited with East Germany -- now no. 12 in the G.N.P. rating -- it would be half way back to superpower. And Japan is no. 5 -- comfortably ahead of Britain.

The moral, in pre-nuclear terms, is: if you can't stay out of war, the best thing to do is lose. Moreover, now that unlimited conflict -- touch wood -- seems a thing of the past, a substitute for its shock treatment must be found.

JIM BISHOP

You Can't Believe Him

It is impossible to believe Ray. We sat together in a cheap restaurant in Greenwich Village with his girl, and he kept stirring a white mug of muddy coffee, trying to explain his latest psychedelic trip. He and Imelda live on the top floor of a rancid flat and they have three rooms, running water, a lavatory and no bath and no furniture except a mattress kicked against a wall and a table.

Ray is a pathological liar, and yet he runs thin gold threads of truth through the fabric of his speech and I tire of picking the firecracker of fact from the hydrogen bomb of make-believe.

He affects dirty corduroys and calf boots. He has a beard as black as the dark side of the moon and eyes which clutch an old sorrow. "No use telling you," he says, as he stirs. "You never believed a word I said since we met at the first Harlem thing. 'Sure I believe you,' I said, and now I was on his level."

Imelda giggled. She wore a man's white blouse hanging outside tight blue jeans and she saw this as a contest between antlered moose. She was born a Negro and never tried to pass. The hair was dark and shiny and straight, bunched at the nape of the neck with a money clip. She was a pill popper. No matter how many conversations we had, I never knew the real Imelda. Neither did she.

"Make mine black," I said and the counterwoman ran it to the fake marble table himself. "I tell you," Ray said, taking the spoon from the cup and speaking extra slow to impress me, "that I saw the Old Man himself. Man, he was standing next to the table. Ask Imelda. Mel, tell him." She hung her head and smiled her secret smile. "Yeah," she said softly. "Yeah. We saw God. He's as real as next month's rent."

I asked for a jelly doughnut and the counterwoman made a face, and skidded it before me. Two trips for twenty cents. "We make this little voyage," Ray said, "just a little one and me and her are going pretty good and a kiss is like four years long. Well, she's laughin' her food head off and I say 'Wait a minute. Just a damn minute. I just thought of something. If there is a God up there -- General Post Office will do -- I dare Him to come down here and rap with me.'"

"Man, Mel has a fit. She laughs and rolls off the mattress and we look up and I tell you, He's standing there like He's studying a porno movie -- know what I mean?" I said I thought so. "He don't look like no pictures I ever saw," Ray said. He spurned the handle on the mug to embrace the roundness. "I mean," he whispered, clenching his teeth, "right there. I sit up fast and I don't say nuthin'. I'm on one elbow and I look behind me and Imelda ain't laughin' any more. She's taking a big loud look. This guy is maybe five ten and he's wearing a diaper. A real true baby's diaper. He ain't got much of a build and I know I can take him if he wants to play, so I said: 'You heard my question?' He nods and I said: 'You came here?'"

"He's pushin' a thin wavy beard and we are coming back fast and I say 'Take a seat on the floor, Jeez.' Man he sits like Gandhi, you remember?" "Well, we been on sugar trips before, but this has got to be the biggest light we ever see. Him and me talk, and -- I know you won't believe me -- He puts Himself down. Like He's not much and I'm big -- you know? He goes scientific and He says 'Out there man has seen a star a billion light years away and it was dead and black and gone when he saw it in his telescope. There are billions of suns and seeds and you think they started by themselves?'"

"Then he fractures both of us. 'How about empty space?' He says, like He's not preaching or nuthin'. 'Space had to be made. Even the vastness of nothing cannot invent itself. Nor can you pass it off by saying it was always there. It too had a beginning. Everything you can see as substance is held together by molecules moving at top speed. Do you think they could evolve by themselves? From what? If they stopped, the universe would fall apart.'"

"Right," I said to Ray. It was the wrong word. "Come on," he said to Imelda. "I know this fink writer. He'll make a little bread for himself writing about it. Jim, you take the check." "Sure," I said. They left and he moved fast, dragging her to the pad. I went around the corner to a precinct and talked to the captain in his office. "Absolutely," he said. "We caught this nut in the diaper up near Washington Park. He looked in a book. 'Yep. We got him for indecent exposure.' . . ."

Cardozo, it may be worth remembering, was appointed by President Hoover in 1923 in violation of what some would say should be the rules. He made the third New Yorker on the court, and the second Jew; Hoover picked him because he was preeminently qualified. Americans cannot confine choices for the Supreme Court to the mold even of a Cardozo.

...AND NOW, AS YOUR NAMES ARE CALLED, WILL YOU COME FORWARD VERY SLOWLY ONE AT A TIME, AND COLLECT YOUR DIPLOMAS...?

Nixon Moves on Civil Rights

WASHINGTON -- President Nixon is planning to appoint a civil rights czar to coordinate all such activities of the federal government.

He has found that the departments charged with enforcing the civil rights laws -- Justice, Labor, Transportation, Health, Education, and Welfare, Housing and Urban Development -- sometimes interpret the laws differently and pursue opposite policies.

He may form another Cabinet Council, like his Urban Affairs Council, to handle civil rights planning. But he wants one man in charge, who will make sure all federal departments and agencies are following the same policy.

It looks as if President Nixon pulled his first political boner when he took on critics of the military at the Air Force Academy commencement in Colorado Springs. Republican friends are not saying so, but some of them are not happy.

What Nixon was aiming at was Sen. Teddy Kennedy, and Kennedy's criticism of the military for its useless loss of life in taking Hamburger Hill, then abandoning it. Republicans have figured that Kennedy is almost certain to be Nixon's opponent in 1972 and it's essential to begin now cutting the ground out from under Kennedy at every opportunity.

Furthermore, the fact that Hubert Humphrey took a sideswipe at Teddy over the Hamburger Hill criticism, by saying there should be no war criticism, was not lost on the White House. But, following the Colorado Springs speech, Humphrey reversed himself, came out with a strong statement urging a cease-fire in Vietnam. Then Sen. Bill Fulbright, the Arkansas Rhodes scholar and powerful chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee, let loose a salvo at Nixon. Hitherto, Fulbright has been more tolerant of Nixon than of his fellow Democrat LBJ.

Other Senators, including Gaylord Nelson of Wisconsin and Alan Cranston of California, followed. Most biting criticism came from Sen. Steve Young, the caustic Ohioan, who said: "I recall that over a year ago Nixon said he had a secret formula for ending the war but didn't want to reveal it until he was elected. He's now elected. He should reveal it."

What chiefly worried Republicans, however, was the fact that hitherto they have been able to put the war label on the Democrats. In election after election they have hung World War I, World War II, the Korean War, and the Vietnamese war around the necks of the Democrats.

Still in the files of the Republican National Committee is the literature which the GOP found to be effective in the Eisenhower campaigns after he secured a truce in Korea. One of the much used GOP advertisements reads: "LEST WE FORGET 3 GREAT WARS! Three great wars with the horror, the heartaches, the cruelly maimed bodies, and widows and orphans and sorrowing mothers. Three great wars in our generation during terms of three Democratic Presidents. Here is the gruesome score."

Then followed the casualties of World War I, World War II, and the Korean War. "In less than two years President Eisenhower and the Republican statesmen," continued the ad, "have opened a new vista of PEACE ON EARTH GOOD WILL TO MEN! Republican leadership has pointed the way. The Republican party has proved that this great nation can have prosperity in peace. So when you cast your ballot on Tuesday, think --

"THE SON YOU SAVE MAY BE YOUR OWN." Then followed a quote from Dwight D. Eisenhower: "I thank God that today there is not in the whole world an active battlefield."

"Vote straight Republican ticket" were the concluding words of this highly effective advertisement.

Another effective GOP ad read: "I proudly voted Republican because I was tired of watching New Deal Democrats kill our sons and daughters in a senseless war."

Another showed an ambulance carrying away war wounded. Below was the caption: "Remember the total destruction of Nagasaki? The above disaster scene could be ours. Vote straight Republican."

Nixon, himself, when Vice President, was ruthless in pinning the war label on the Democrats. In the closing days of the 1954 Congressional campaign, when Eisenhower said that Democratic prosperity had been achieved "only at the price of war and bloodshed," Adlai Stevenson chided the general for speaking "thoughtlessly and carelessly."

Whereupon Nixon jumped down his throat. He sent Stevenson a hot telegram, Oct. 30, 1954: "You have been following your usual tactics of . . . screaming, smear, slur and slander."

One day later, Nixon followed up with a statement calling Stevenson's remark "one of the most vicious, scurrilous attacks ever made by a major political figure on a President of the United States."

He followed up again by issuing his version of the Democratic "big lie" technique in which he charged "the Truman administration got us into war. The Eisenhower administration got us out."

Republican strategists have been planning to launch a similar campaign for the 1970 Congressional election, expecting the Vietnam war to be over by that time. But if the President keeps on defending the military while Kennedy, Fulbright and Humphrey criticize it, they fear this tried and trusted strategy will go up in smoke.

MASON DENISON

'Taxing-est Administration'

HARRISBURG -- The Shafer Administration may well go down as the "taxing-est administration" in Pennsylvania history, a possible appellation by no means cherished by either Republicans or Governor Shafer himself.

It is ironic however, that neither Governor Shafer nor his Republican allies either in or out of the Legislature are in position to do much about it.

Reason for this is that a goodly portion of the $500 million in new taxes Mr. Shafer originally proposed is wrapped up in commitments on this administration already made by preceding legislatures.

Thus the Shafer Administration is literally being forced into the position of becoming the "taxing-est administration."

Of course there is an alternative -- cutting budgetary expenditures, but this isn't quite as simple as it sounds.

By executive pen Mr. Shafer can nip some of his own program proposals for the coming fiscal year -- which he already has done. But there is a limit to which the executive pen can be used.

For example, he can't even remotely touch the near $300 million in increases mandated by previous legislatures which he "inherited."

Only the Legislature can revoke its own action -- not the Governor. This course is a ticklish and questionable one inasmuch as lawmakers seemingly are more inclined to spend than cut, as succinctly illustrated incidentally in the $300 million increase with which the Shafer Administration is now faced.

Can you imagine, for example, lawmakers calling back or curtailing programs already on the "futures" book, such as cutting down on state subsidies to local districts?

This then is the rather gloomy and depressing picture facing

Mr. Shafer as he frets and fiddles over his budget and taxes. While the condition itself may not have originated in its entirety in his sanctum, he as the Governor is the one faced with the dilemma and in whose name the spending and taxes ultimately will be remembered.

In any event, to cover his projected budgetary expenditure for fiscal 1969-70 (which starts July 1) he has proposed a half-billion-dollar increase in Keystone State taxes -- keystoned around the ill-received state income tax proposal.

Now, since Mr. Shafer made his $500 million bid earlier in the year, the project, currently seems closer to $600 million in new needs -- that is, "needs" if the spending increases outlined by His Excellency in his budget are to be accepted.

Should the Legislature in its wisdom (which now seems doubtful -- and this can be taken two ways) see fit to go along with a $600 million tax increase, that in itself would seem to be quite a star in Mr. Shafer's helmet insofar as attaining the rank of the "taxing-est administration" in Pennsylvania history is concerned.

But this $600 million or $500 million, isn't all of the tax increase picture insofar as the Shafer tenure is concerned.

Not to be overlooked is the fact that during his first year in office a $300 million tax increase was passed along to Pennsylvania's flailing-at-the-gates taxpaying loyalists.

Add these two tid-bits together and the tax increase for Mr. Shafer's administration comes perilously close to the billion-dollar mark.

Of course this can be classified as the price of "progress" -- if you prefer to look at it that way (which quite naturally is the light in which bureaucracy views it).

The "taxing-est administration" may be a desired label (insofar as Republicans are concerned) but it may indeed become a reality in the end

Compare Your Vacation

How does your vacation compare?

You work for a stingy employer who is out of the mainstream if workers in your office do not get:

A paid vacation of one week, or one day for each month of employment, after a mere six months on the job;

A couple of weeks off with pay after a year's service, at least three weeks off after 15 years on the job and increasingly long vacations after that.

You work for a generous fellow to whom you should offer Tender Loving Care if you get:

A three-week vacation after five years, a four-week vacation after 10 years, a five-week vacation after 15 years;

A sabbatical leave, extended paid vacation, if you have a valid reason for one;

The privilege of taking your vacation in any form you wish -- one day at a time, a week at a time, winter or summer, etc.

Despite the fact that at many companies, vacation time is now anytime, most offices (and factories too) report that winter vacations are not catching on. Even among companies which encourage winter vacations workers still choose to take time off during the summer. Even in the face of mounting evidence suggesting that the off-season vacation is frequently the most desirable, there are few takers.

This being so, a new Prentice-Hall survey of vacation practices is exceedingly timely on this early June day.

I arrived at the characterization of a stingy employer by noting the fat percentages of offices which told Prentice-Hall that they do grant one week off after six months, two weeks after a year, etc. (Any office which doesn't is below average.) And I arrived at the characterization of a generous employer by noting the minor percentages of offices which grant as much as three weeks after five years, four weeks after 15 years, etc. (Any office which matches this schedule is above average.)

The basic vacation trends continue as they have been -- only more so. To put it succinctly:

Longer vacations are being granted sooner. Over one-half of the policy changes pinpointed by P-H involve lowering seniority requirements for longer vacations. The most popular shifts: a decrease from 20 to 15 years' service for four weeks off; a decrease from 15 to 10 years' service for three weeks' vacation.

Maximum vacation time is being increased. The most frequently cited increase: a fifth week for workers with 25 years' service.

Other interesting developments:

Office vacation policies still are far more liberal than factory policies. After one year's service, most office employees get two weeks but most production workers are given only one week. After five years' service, three in ten offices give employees three weeks while only one in six factories match this for production workers.

Bonus weeks are out -- with only one of 158 companies giving employees a bonus week -- and that only after 15 years' service. This once popular custom of rewarding employees at five-year intervals has been made obsolete by generally more liberal vacation practices.

Employers are starting to give parttime workers vacation benefits. A hospital in Maine grants vacations to parttime employees who average 20 hours or more per week on a pro-rata basis.

As a professional who doesn't get vacations and allows herself only five holidays off a year, I get a perverse pleasure out of writing such columns as this. Incidentally, can any of you beat the Chicago newspaper publisher who gives one week after three months, two weeks after six months, three weeks after a year? Or the Iowa mail order firm which grants four weeks to all employees?

ON WAY TO PICNIC

Special Committee Mulls Solid Waste Problem

Last February a special committee was assigned the responsibility for determining the best method for disposing of Warren County's solid wastes.

Members of the committee made their recommendations yesterday in a meeting at the court house, based on participation in several field trips, research and participation in many discussion sessions over these past four months.

Speaking as chairman for the solid waste disposal committee, William Rusin said that the committee recommends that the Warren County Planning and Zoning Commission consider in detail the sanitary landfill as a method of disposal of Warren County's solid waste as opposed to incineration. Rusin said that the recommendation is based on a rather limited study of a site in Watson Township on the Allegheny National Forest and that the planning consultant should, therefore, study the site in detail, determining hauling cost, the feasibility of transfer stations, and other methods and appropriate procedures to effect a complete sanitary landfill operation.

Rusin said that the committee recommended the sanitary landfill over incineration primarily because of the comparative costs, in that incineration costs are almost prohibitive as compared to the preliminary costs worked up for the sanitary landfill.

Members of the committee attending the meeting were: Ray Thomas of Ray's Disposal, Pittsfield; Donald Curtis, Valentine Disposal, Warren; John Lupis, forest engineer, Allegheny National Forest; Walter Austin, borough council; R. H. Alexander, Sylvania Electric Products; Robert Weaver, Bainbridge-Kaufman Real Estate, Inc.; Ron Brumagin, Pa. Dept. of Health; John Saylor, National Forge and William Rusin, planning office.

Escape Artist Gets Five Years On Last Try

SCRANTON, Pa. (AP) — William Ziefel, 28, of Pittsburgh, received a five year sentence Tuesday from U.S. Judge William Nealon, for his escape from Lackawanna County Jail Oct. 9, his 13th flight from custody in a lifetime spent mostly behind bars.

Ziefel, who has been in custody all but four years since he first got into trouble at the age of nine, will serve the sentence concurrently with a 25-year term he is presently serving for bank robbery, in the federal prison at Atlanta, Ga.

Ziefel's escape from Lackawanna County Jail came only two months after he had escaped from the Northumberland County Jail in Sunbury. Five months before that, he made an unsuccessful attempt to break out of Lycoming County Jail.

FROM AREA HIGH SCHOOLS

Youth Corpsmen to Work for U.S. Forest Service

About 40 Neighborhood Youth Corpsmen will be assigned to the Allegheny National Forest for a period beginning June 23 and ending Aug. 15. Twenty-five will be assigned to a project in the Sheffield Ranger District and 15 boys will work on projects in the Ridgway District. The young men are local high school students enlisted from Warren, Forest and McKean counties. Clinton Schrecengost will be supervisor in charge of the crew, according to Ralph Willard, Bradford District Ranger. He is presently assigned to the Blue Jay Job Corps Center. Another supervisor will be appointed later. Assistant Forest Supervisor Wayne K. Mann explains that the Forest Service will provide transportation, supervisory expense and supplies for the program. Salaries for the Neighborhood Youth Corpsmen will be paid through the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare, who make the grants to the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, disbursed through local YMCA's who handle the local program in cooperation with the local office of the Office of Economic Opportunity. The OEO says Mann, will provide a hour of education and training each day for the corpsmen. This will include job counselling. Officials who attended a planning meeting for the program Monday morning, June 9, in the Allegheny National Forest supervisor's office, included: Richard Brown and Mrs. Neel of the OEO; Clinton Schrecengost, Norman Koller and Lee Sutton of the Sheffield Ranger Station; R. E. Willard, Bradford Ranger Station; John Mehl, personnel specialist, and Wayne Mann, assistant supervisor, Allegheny National Forest. The project planned which will be begun and completed during the approximately eight weeks the 25 boys will be employed in the Sheffield Ranger District is construction of a seven-mile hiking trail. It will be a loop beginning at the Minister Creek camp ground at the foot of Minister Hill. It will go north in the Minister valley, cross Minister Creek and return down the western side to the starting point. Also contemplated, along the West side of the Allegheny Reservoir, for this group or another Neighborhood Youth Corp group, will be work on a hiking trail which will be a part of the North Country Trail, a proposed national trails system. This would extend from the present end of construction at Tracy Run, south to Johnny Cake Run. "At that point we hope to tie into the old Johnny Cake Trail which has been there for some time," Wayne Mann adds.

Although the Allegheny National Forest officials only learned about a month ago that this group of boys would be assigned to them and the program developed, it had been indicated last fall that they would be interested in participating in such a program. A similar program last year resulted in improvements at Heart's Content, Jakes Rocks and Rim Rock.

SEVEN HORSE POWER TRAVEL

This party of hardy pioneers probably suffer from saddle weariness, traveling from near Cleveland, Ohio, on the way to Westfield, N.Y. The rider with the tresses and the flowers in her hair is Mrs. Paul Martin, wagonmaster, and Martin is in the left front of the picture. Most of the travelers have been active in 4-H horse and dog clubs.

Party Uses Horses and Wagon To Travel from Ohio to Westfield

After spending Sunday night camping on the Garland fair ground, this picturesque party paused for their photograph to be taken Monday as they traveled via the Old Pittsfield Road on their way to a camp on the Morrison Run Road. They left Olmsted Falls, southwest of Cleveland, Ohio, on Friday afternoon and plan to reach Westfield, N.Y., before week's end.

Wagonmaster is the horsewoman with wild flowers in her hat, Mrs. Paul Martin. Her husband sitting tall in his saddle on one of the riding horses, is "probably the only man east of the Mississippi married to a wagonmaster," Mrs. Martin quips.

She operates a small horsemanship school in Cleveland and is also an adviser to a 4-H horse and dog club, called the Haykickers. Russ Stolcals, 13, and Mark Spanulo, riding the ponies, are members of the 4-H club. The other rider is Ross' 17-year-old brother Tom. Another youthful 4-H member of the expedition is Tom Atkinson, driving the team and the wagon, which carries camping gear. Gone for ice when the picture was taken were Art Stolcals and Barbara Sprague. Barbara joined the outfit yesterday. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Sprague, drove her to Garland from Ohio and rode on in the wagon to the Red Brosch camp on the Morrison Run road, before returning home.

Brosch is a neighbor of the Martins. His camp has a small pond where the party planned to swim and "have a frog race, if we can find some frogs."

The wagon is one of three restored to road-worthiness by an Amish friend. Last year, the Martins led a party of about 20 people on a 500-mile round trip to Indiana by horse and wagon and altogether travelled some 700 miles during the summer.

"All the kids learned to drive the wagon," said Mrs. Martin proudly. She added: "I would like the folks of Garland to know how much we appreciate their kindness to us yesterday, helping us find a place to camp. They were really great and it was a good spot for us." She pointed out that most conventional camping areas do not have facilities for horses.

Spanish War Vet Dead at Jamestown

JAMESTOWN — The man who blew the bugle for 53 Memorial Day parades in Jamestown died Tuesday. George G. Schwab, 87, one of the last two veterans of the Spanish-American War in the city, died in Buffalo Veterans Hospital Tuesday morning.

Schwab served in the Philippines after the Spanish-American War. He had been honorary bugler for the local parade since 1955. He had been employed as a custodian for the Board of Education and at one time was house officer at Hotel Jamestown.

FTC OKs Soft Coal Merger with Qualms

WASHINGTON (AP) — Conceding in advance its action might hurt competition, the Federal Trade Commission Tuesday tentatively approved a proposal to consolidate two large soft coal companies.

The action came on a request by Giant Occidental Petroleum Corp. for its subsidiary, Island Creek Coal Co., to be allowed to buy Maust Coal and Coke Corp., a competing bituminous producer.

A divided FTC gave the go-ahead for the acquisition under the "failing company" doctrine, contending bankruptcy is imminent for Maust unless the merger is allowed.

But two commissioners, Philip Elman and Mary Gardiner Jones, in a joint dissenting statement, challenged the action on grounds the decision was made on the basis of insufficient information, largely supplied by Occidental.

"At this stage," they claimed, "the considerations pointing toward disapproval are clear and certain while those pointing toward approval are unclear and uncertain."

The FTC majority—chairman Paul Rand Dixon and Commissioners Everette MacIntyre and James M. Nicholson—agreed that the effects of the takeover would possibly be anticompetitive—in regard to other soft coal producers as well as coal customers.

Island Creek, based in Cleveland, is the nation's third largest soft coal producer behind Consolidation Coal and Peabody Coal.

Maust, headquartered in New York City, is much smaller than the big three. But the FTC said the combination would increase Island Creek's share of the country's bituminous production from 4.76 per cent to 6.04 per cent annually.

Occidental was forced to seek FTC approval of the purchase because of a five-year ban placed on its merger activities by the commission last November.

At that time, the FTC told Occidental, an industrial giant with 1968 sales of $1.7 billion, it would have to get prior commission approval for any acquisitions of manufacturing, mining or related firms.

The FTC majority said Maust has been under "extreme financial difficulties" over the past two years and there appears to be "little or no likelihood" the company can avoid bankruptcy.

And a financial collapse, the majority said, would result in "serious economic hardship for the employees, creditors and stockholders of Maust and for the mining communities which Maust serves."

Maust operates primarily in the coal fields of West Virginia and western Pennsylvania. Island Creek has interests in Kentucky, West Virginia and southern Ohio.

Lutheran Body Plans to Decide On Church Change

SELINGROVE, Pa. (AP) — Delegates at the annual convention of the Central Pennsylvania Synod of the Lutheran Church in America were called Tuesday to determine how the church can change.

"The most crucial issue of all is for us to determine whether the institutional structures of the church are capable of evolution to the degree that she can serve as an instrument for the power of God to transform human life," said the Rev. Dr. Howard J. McCauley, Camp Hill, synod president.

There are 596 congregations with 310,165 members in the synod.

Youngsville Cubs Set Family Picnic

Ralph Wile, cubmaster, Youngsville Pack 30 cubscouts, announces that the group will have a family picnic next Sunday, June 15 at 3 p.m. at Wilder Field. Boys and their families are to take their own meat and table service and a tureen. Beverages will be provided. There will be games and other activities after the picnic.

Allen to Speak At Brokenstraw On Gardening

Brokenstraw Garden Club will meet at the National Forge club house Thursday, June 12 at 6:30 p.m. for their regular monthly dinner and will have as their guest Representative William W. Allen of Tidoute. The assemblyman will tell them about his gardening hobby—the culture of miniature oriental type trees.

Dinner hosts will be Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Rieder and Mrs. Marge Finlan. The program chairman will be Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Olson. Members are reminded to bring rolls and a tureen. Meat and potatoes will be furnished.

Garnishee Law Doesn't Affect Pennsylvania

HARRISBURG (AP) — The U. S. Supreme Court's ruling guaranteeing a hearing to persons before their wages can be attached for non-payment of debts will have little effect in Pennsylvania, it was reported Tuesday.

Pennsylvania law specifically prohibits attachment — or garnishment — of wages by lenders. However, in some cases, local governments can garnishee the paychecks of tax dodgers.

The high court opinion handed down Monday made unconstitutional a Wisconsin law which permits part of an employee's pay to be frozen merely upon a declaration that the employee owes money to someone.

The court opinion, written by Justice William O. Douglas, said the law denied citizens the right of due process of law by permitting such attachment of wages without a hearing.

Some 20 other states have similar laws.

Pennsylvania, according to a spokesman for the state Justice Department, is not among them.

"Pennsylvania does not have any provision for garnishment of wages under normal judgments," he said. "There are very limited collections permitted under certain local taxes, though."

He said there could be no determination how the Supreme Court ruling would apply to garnishment for taxes in Pennsylvania without first seeing the opinion.

The law, part of the municipal corporation taxing section of the state code, allows local governments to attach wages of persons who are delinquent in paying occupational privilege taxes, per capita and earned income taxes.

USHERETTES WITH CHARMS

AND NOW—THE WINNERS!

The Pennsylvania Association for the Blind sponsored a "Sergeant Seymour Eye Safety Contest" for all elementary school pupils in the state. Judges of the poster contest chose winners by grade levels from all over the state, including the following from Jefferson Elementary School left to right: David Campbell, 2nd prize (Bradley Watch with Calendar) in 5th grade; James Farnsworth 6th grade, 3rd prize (Viceroy 126 camera outfit) and four Honorable Mentions—Jean Kroeger, 6th grade; Russell City, 5th grade; Randy Bines, 6th grade; and Sherry Richards, 5th grade. Fifth grader Tracey Cunningham was not present at picture time. (Photo by Mansfield)

Cool, Wet Weather Slows Sour Cherries and Corn

HARRISBURG (AP) — Cool, wet weather last week slowed field work and crop growth on the state's farmlands, although soil moisture supplies now are generally adequate, the State Crop Reporting Service said Tuesday.

Northern areas of the state, the service said, received damage to the sour cherry crop from recent frosts, but tree fruits were doing well in other areas.

Planting of the corn crop nearly is completed statewide, while early planted oats are starting to head in southern areas, the crop service said.

The service noted that wheat heading is completed, but heavy rains and high winds caused extensive lodging in scattered areas.

In addition to crop news, the service reported that prices received by Pennsylvania farmers averaged the same in May as they did in April.

At the same time, U. S. farm prices increased by 4 per cent in the same period.

The service attributed the unchanged price situation in the state to lower milk and egg prices for crops and animals.

The election of new officers and directors took place at the recent annual dinner meeting of the Warren County Cancer Unit board held at the Edgewood Motel in Youngsville. Outgoing president Jack Donaldson conducted the business session at which annual reports were submitted.

The Crusade committee reported collections to date of $22,196.35, which exceeds not only the county quota but also last year's total of $21,350.57 in contributions. The breakdown of contributions follows, with last year's figures in parentheses: special gifts, $1,515.25 ($945.75); individual foundations $77.47 (none); residential, $12,376.69 ($11,600.49); independent business, $939.00 ($768.); clubs and organizations, $304.38 ($508.25); special events $376.92

Rookie Fireman Hurt in Mishap

STATE COLLEGE, Pa. (AP) — An apprentice fireman was injured Tuesday when fumes from a can of combustible liquid exploded in his face during a training exercise.

The accident happened while a group of regular and novice firemen were preparing to burn down a partially dismantled house near State College.

Marvin Robinson was about to light some acetone poured in the basement when it went off. He was listed in satisfactory condition in Centre County Hospital.

Shafer Ups Budget $35.7 M, Blames Rising Welfare Cases

HARRISBURG (AP) — Contending that the state and nation had failed to anticipate a soaring welfare caseload, Gov. Shafer Tuesday hiked his record $2.52 billion budget by $35.7 million for 1969-70.

In the next fiscal year, he said, as many as 572,000 Pennsylvanians might be receiving welfare payments, 136,000 more than anticipated when his budget was drawn.

Shafer also said the state would need a deficiency appropriation of $7 million by June 23 to take care of spiraling welfare costs in the waning days of the current fiscal year.

In both cases, he explained at a news conference, he would have to do a good bit of juggling.

Actual welfare costs for 1969-70 are expected to increase by $86.5 million, Shafer said, adding that he was able to pare some $50.8 million by deferring, reducing or adjusting some programs.

The state simply underestimates.

Cancer Memorials Made for Many Warren Persons

The Warren County Unit of American Cancer Society received contributions during the month of May in memory of the following: Joseph Cedrone, Gerald Lindberg, Clarence Peterson, Sarah Nichols, Vida McCool, Amos N. Adams, Robert Thomas, Mark James Parish, Martha McCune, Harry W. Conarro, Mary Rock Scalsie, Grace Stoudt, Clarence Stoudt; Also, Alsa Bills, Mary McAnn, James Latimer, R. C. Seagans, Velma Jewell, Harold McCellan, Eva Nelson, Jean Davis, Mary J. Kay, Marquette Doherty, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Moniak, Bettie Jane Thompson, Ida Goal, Leo Sullivan, Janice Linder, Anna Manwaring, S.M. Conner, Dr. Francis B. Luther, Elizabeth E. Messinger; Also, Ronald Welder Berg, Mrs. D. L. Lewis, R. V. Lewis, Charles C. Lewis, Mrs. C. C. Loveland, Laura English, Cameron Tobias, Bertha Olson, Wanda Ong, Sadie McCool, Arlene Holder, Henry V. Sword, Elmer Johnson, Mrs. G. G. Greene and Thelma Snyder.

Memorial contributions may be made by contacting the unit headquarters at 404 Market St., telephone 723-5780. Appropriate acknowledgment cards will be provided for both the donor and the family of the honored one.

'59 WHS Class Meets Tuesday

The Warren Area High School Class of 1959 Reunion Committee will meet next Tuesday, June 17, at 7:30 p.m. in the Hospitality Room at North-west Savings and Loan Co., instead of tonight as originally planned.

ated future welfare costs, he said. When the present fiscal year began last July, there were 428,182 Pennsylvanians receiving public assistance.

By the latter half of last month, the figure had zoomed to nearly 518,000. Last July, 154,084 persons received medical assistance. By last March, the figure had risen to 221,663, Shafer said.

When the 1969-70 budget was written, it was estimated that a monthly average of 436,000 persons would need assistance. Now, said Shafer, the figure is anticipated at 572,000 based on a statistical review and projection by the Philadelphia accounting firm of Peat, Marwick and Mitchell.

Shafer produced figures to show a $33 million deficiency in state welfare funds for the balance of the current fiscal year. He said he could pare this to $7 million by converting medical assistance and some administration costs to a cash basis and freezing medical assistance vendor payments until the next fiscal year.

Although the assistance grants and medical assistance payments would be increased by $86.5 million over original budget estimates, Shafer also told how he planned to prune the increase by $50.8 million.

The big saving, he said, would be by narrowing the number of people eligible for medical assistance by reducing the income standard for a family from the present $4,000 a year to $3,400. He figured this would save $29.3 million.

He also planned to chop off $4 million by eliminating the state's contribution to the work incentive program, which he said "hasn't really worked, anyway."

Shafer planned to save $11.9 by delaying the proposed in-

X-Ray Girls Go Back to Work In New Castle

NEW CASTLE, Pa. (AP) — Four women X-ray technicians, who walked picket lines for 17 months in a bid for union recognition, agreed Tuesday to return to work at two New Castle hospitals.

During their prolonged strike, the pickets tied up construction of a $650,000 addition at St. Francis Hospital and threatened plans for $3 million in new construction at Jameson Memorial Hospital.

The technicians, members of Local 25 of the American Federation of Technical Engineers, walked off the job Jan. 2, 1968. They began returning immediately after the agreement was reached during a session in Lawrence County Court.

No details of the agreement were released. A spokesman for the hospitals said only that the strike was "over."

REFLECTIONS

WOMEN'S RIGHTS? -- It appeared that the women of Warren demanded equal employment opportunity in the Parks Department last week as several lovely young ladies were seen about town helping to plant flowers. These pictured by Bob Clever, however, actually are lifeguards who have been hired in anticipation of a May 30 opening date at the new municipal pool. Since the opening date has been delayed until June 21, the girls are finding other ways to earn their money and the borough is that much more beautiful for it. Working above in front of the municipal building are Vickie Stainbrook and Jane Sedon with Dick Merenick, a regular employe of the Parks Department.

It was a somewhat special occasion for the Rev. Donald H. Spencer, pastor of First Presbyterian Church, when at the sacrament of baptism Sunday morning, he baptized three of his own grandchildren. The Sacrament of Baptism was administered to the following children: Heather Elizabeth August, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert August of Columbia, S.C. Mrs. August was the former Nancy Carlson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ross Carlson; Christopher M. Furman, son of Dr. and Mrs. Donald L. Furman; Jennifer Louise Spencer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Spencer, Wayland, Mass.; Lynn Margaret and Donna Leigh Spencer, twin daughters of the Rev. and Mrs. Donald L. Spencer, Morgantown, W. Va., grandchildren of the Rev. and Mrs. Donald H. Spencer. The oldest Spencer grandchild in the group, Jennifer Louise, wore a baptismal dress which had been made for the baptism of Mr. Spencer's father in 1881 in England and was worn by Mr. Spencer, the baby's father and her uncle.

Is Engaged

Mr. and Mrs. John L. Friedrich, Star Route, Irvine, Pa., wish to announce the engagement and forthcoming marriage of their daughter, Deborah Louise, to Mr. Charles E. Culbertson, 1319 Brown Run Road, Clarendon, Pa.

Miss Friedrich is a 1968 graduate of Warren Area High School and is presently employed at New Process Co. Her fiancé is a 1967 graduate of WAHS and is presently employed with Pennsylvania Gas Company.

A September wedding is being planned.

MISS FREDRICH

Ann Landers

Answers Your Problems

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I attended a wedding last week which left me horribly depressed. Now another thing occurs to me. Was it legal?

The bride and groom both live in another city, but the wedding was held in the home town of the bride. It was a church affair. The bride walked down the aisle on her father's arm. She looked like she'd been crying for a week. When they reached the altar the minister announced that the groom was in the hospital, ill, and his cousin would serve as his proxy.

The cousin came forward, stood by the bride and responded "I do" to all the questions. He then put the ring on her finger and the minister said, "I now pronounce you man and wife." They did not kiss at the close of the ceremony, which was quite a relief.

There were no felicitations or congratulations. The families wept all over each other and left the church. It was more like a funeral than a wedding. Please tell me if you have ever heard of such a thing and if the marriage is valid. — VICKSBURG, MISS.

DEAR VICK: Proxy marriages are legal in some states, but Mississippi is not one of them. (Neither is Illinois.)

Obviously the bride believes she is married. Someone ought to acquaint her with the facts. And the minister as well.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I am 24 and have been married for two years. Last April I gave birth to a premature boy. My labor was long and complicated. The boy lived only three hours.

I wasn't allowed to have any anesthetic because the doctor wanted to give the baby every chance. I remember every second of my labor and it was a horrible experience.

I realize the first delivery is usually the most difficult, but the thought of getting pregnant again terrifies me. My husband and I both want to try again, but my fear of pregnancy has made me anti-sex and I burst into tears over the least little thing. I'd crack up for sure if I became pregnant while I'm in this state of mind.

If you think therapy would help, I'll go. Many thanks. — NIGHTMARE REVISITED.

DEAR N.: Your anxieties are hanging on much too long. A competent therapist and a supportive husband should solve the problem. Go for help and good luck.

MR. AND MRS. J. BLAINE DINSMOOR

Observed 50th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. J. Blaine Dinsmoor celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary Saturday evening, May 30 with a family dinner at Jackson Valley Country Club. The club affair was followed by dessert served at their home which featured a three-tier cake, a gift of Mrs. Lawrence Carlson.

At home for the occasion were their son and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Dinsmoor of Arlington Heights, Ill. The couple's other children are Mr. and Mrs. Russell (Doris) Lyle and Mr. and Mrs. Donald Dinsmoor of Warren.

The couple was married June 2, 1919 in Warren and received many gifts and cards from family and friends. Mrs. Dinsmoor was favored with a yellow rose corsage and Mr. Dinsmoor a carnation boutonniere, a gift from their grandchildren, Rick, Linda, Jim, Cathy and John Lyle. Their grandson, Rick Lyle, was unable to attend but called on their anniversary.

Kite Fly-In At Art Festival

United In Marriage

Nancy Katherine Niederer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George A. Niederer, 50 North State street, North Warren, and John Bradley Crawford, son of Mrs. George Heller Jr., Konkle Road, Montoursville, Pa., and the late John L. Crawford, were united in marriage at 2 p.m., May 24, 1969 at St. Joseph Church.

The Rev. Norman A. Smith performed the double ring ceremony before an altar decorated with baskets of daisy-like mums and yellow pompons.

The bride, escorted by her father, wore an imported Beau organza skimmer with mandarin neckline trimmed with Venice lace embroidered with pearls. The same trim accented the front of the dress and the detachable wateau train was bordered with Venice lace.

Her shoulder length veil of silk illusion fell from a headpiece of pearl and aurora borealis. She carried a bouquet of white daisies accented with yellow sweetheart roses and lilies of the valley with ivy entwined and yellow streamers.

The bride's sister, Shirley Ann Niederer, was maid of honor and bridesmaids were Eileen Swanson of Warren and Toni K. McHenry of Philadelphia. They wore gowns of apricot jakarta trimmed with matching Venice lace. Apricot bows with three-tier veils completed their ensembles and they carried colonial bouquets of yellow and apricot daisies with yellow streamers.

William R. Isinger, of Cranford, Pa., a fraternity brother of the bridegroom, served as best man and ushers were Gregory S. Confair, Berwick, Pa. and R. John Harris of San Anselmo, Calif.

The bride's mother wore a mint green silk shantung dress and coat ensemble with bone accessories and corsage of yellow carnations and sweetheart roses. The bridegroom's mother chose a blue A-line knit suit with matching accessories and corsage of white carnations and sweetheart roses. Grandmothers present, Mrs. Donald Bogart and Mrs. A. S. Niederer were favored with white carnations accented with sweetheart roses.

The wedding reception for about 70 guests was held in the Penn Laurel banquet room where decorations of bud vases of yellow and white daisies at individual tables carried out the wedding color scheme. The four-tier wedding cake was trimmed with bells and yellow roses and topped with satin bells. The bride's aunt, Mrs. Joan Jones, was in charge of the guest book.

For a honeymoon trip to Lake Placid, the new Mrs. Crawford wore a yellow linen dress with matching accessories and corsage of yellow sweetheart roses.

The couple will make their home after June 1 at 1022 New Jersey avenue, Hellertown, Pa.

The bride is a 1965 graduate of Warren Area High School and 1968 graduate of

Hints From Heloise

DEAR HELOISE:

I made a great coffee table top from a collection of matchbook covers.

Open the matches and remove the staples with a screw driver.

Cut off the striking surface and then cut all the covers the same size (they do vary).

Using a good glue, paste all the covers on the top of your table, laying them out in brick fashion. I put all of mine on at a 45-degree angle.

All that is necessary, then, is to coat it with clear plastic from a spray can.

I also covered three pieces of plywood using this same method and hung them on the wall. You can't guess what a conversation piece they make in dens or teensters rooms.

As one glances at all the match covers from faraway places, it brings back memories too.

That's an apple-pandowdy idea. Thanks for taking the time to tell us.

Just think of the fun all the teensters will have trading match covers. Their pen pals will have a ball.

Opening lead: Five of ♠.
When North freely bid four diamonds over West's preemptive jump to three hearts, South—the opening bidder—visualized slam possibilities, particularly since his own hand was worth 20 points and he held virtually a self-sufficient suit. He checked back for aces and after reassuring himself that the opposition was not in position to cash two fast tricks, he proceeded to six spades.

East's double of five diamonds convinced West that his partner has that suit well under control, and he decided to pursue a neutral course by opening the five of spades. The trump lead was quite effective, for it deprived declarer of any reasonable chance to ruff a heart in dummy. He, therefore, proceeded to draw trump by continuing spades for three rounds.

Prospects for establishing North's diamond suit were extremely remote—even tho the location of the missing honors were clearly marked — due to the fact that dummy was short of the necessary entries. However, inasmuch as it was his only chance, South proceeded to cash the ace of diamonds and continued with the queen.

East covered with the king and declarer ruffed with West discarded a heart. The ace of clubs was played on which West followed with the nine. It appeared that he had not most—one more card in the suit, and, if it was the jack, South observed a way to develop an extra entry to dummy.

Declarer continued with queen of clubs and when West played the jack, North overtook with the king, for his ten now became the master card in the suit. The ten of diamonds was put thru and South ruffed out East's jack. Dummy was reentered with the ten of clubs, and after the nine of diamonds picked up East's remaining card in that suit—the diamonds provided sufficient discards to take care of South's losing hearts. Declarer took all 13 tricks.

Your Horoscope

By Frances Drake

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars. FOR WEDNESDAY, JUNE 11, 1969

ARIES (March 21 to April 21)—Tighten up loose ends, bring people closer together who should be collaborating; use that fine talent of yours for getting folks to work together for truly good causes.

TAURUS (April 21 to May 21)—Don't be satisfied with mediocrity now. Only your best will do. Demonstrate your ability to get facts fully and early and act knowingly upon them.

GEMINI (May 22 to June 21)—Especially favored now: Occupational pursuits, business, social and charity interests and general personal relationships. Avoid day-dreaming, excesses.

CANCER (June 22 to July 23)—Lunar influences generally favorable, but you will have to strive for additional credits, and not let down your guard in personal or other matters. Avoid the bizarre.

LEO (July 24 to August 23)—How you start the day will be important to its ending. Guessing must not supplant consistent seeking of facts. Obstacles need not discourage, ought to spur your ambition.

VIRGO (August 24 to September 23)—If you set the right pace, manage the day with steadiness, then be careful in your windup, the three integral parts will make a successful whole. Patience, too!

LIBRA (September 24 to October 23)—Industrial, scientific and domestic affairs can make strides with your careful handling. In all other matters, gains may be slower but can, nevertheless, be impressive.

SCORPIO (October 24 to November 22)—You have instinctive know-how in many areas, but may tend to get off the track now, give too much time to side issues. Concentrate on essentials; evaluate carefully.

SAGITTARIUS (November 23 to December 21)—Dealings with others may disappoint in part, but YOU keep a sure-footed, even tempo. Do not be overly skeptical and don't blow minute things out of proportion.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 20)—Aspects indicate new advantages, but you may well overlook some because of their very "newness." So search well, and keep that sturdy head high!

AQUARIUS (January 21 to February 19)—There's a tendency now to overtax yourself, keep too long at whatever you are trying to achieve. This may seem okay today, but will tell on energies tomorrow. Think ahead!

PISCES (February 20 to March 20)—You may be faced with some complex situations now, but your stability and willingness to toll, to persevere against odds will not only see you through but earn many credits.

YOU BORN TODAY are widely talented; likeable, sensitive; will defend others' rights alone if necessary. You are not afraid of anything except being misunderstood. Keep studying your potentialities, furthering your education generally, since there is no end to the achievements you can win. Don't stretch the budget or scatter your energies needlessly. 1969 holds many new advantages for your dynamic being and gifts. Birthdate of: Richard Strauss, composer; John Constable, painter; Ben Johnson, Eng. dramatist; Rise Stevens, singer; Hazel Scott, pianist.

How to Keep Well

By Dr. T. R. Van Dellen

(c) 1969; by The Chicago Tribune

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is inclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

NEVER IGNORE 'LUMPS'

Reams have been written about breast cancer, yet many women are not so "lump" conscious as they should be, considering their delay in seeking treatment. We know that the earlier the tumor is detected and removed, the better the outlook. Periodic self-examination of the breasts or a screening test involving mammography or thermography is recommended. (Our leaflet explaining the former technique can be obtained by sending stamped, self-addressed envelope with request.)

According to Dr. Guy F. Robbins, a New York cancer specialist, a woman with cancer of the breast has a 39 per cent chance of dying within 5 years. Women with large tumors that have spread beyond the confines of the breast usually have the worst outlook.

Survival beyond 5 years depends upon many other factors. A second cancer may develop, usually in the other breast. These account for 13 per cent of cancer deaths between 10 and 15 years after the first operation. Therefore, a female must remain "lump" conscious even after one breast has been removed.

Breast cancer is more likely to develop as the woman grows older. We do not know why, but it is believed that hormones play a role. Survival rates also are related to age; the outlook is not so good when the cancer develops before 35. On the other hand, what is the chance of a 10-to-20-year survival when the disorder develops after 60?

In such instances, the operation may be a success, but age is against her. She may never die of cancer and succumb to a heart attack, accident, or a stroke. Unless these other causes of death are taken into consideration, the 5-10- or 20-year survival rates are misleading.

Surgery is the only treatment for breast cancer. It is always recommended when there is a reasonable chance for cure. Technics vary and some physicians utilize X-ray or cobalt radiation before or after surgery. Many adjunctive medications are used to inhibit the growth of these tumors.

TOMORROW: Foot Drop.

Questions on medical topics will be answered by mail if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.

GENETIC COMBINATIONS

Mrs. S. writes: In a family we know, the daughter is unusually bright and the son is slightly retarded. How could this happen if both children have the same genes?

REPLY

Siblings do not have the same combination of genes. We have all heard the expression, "Susie (or John) inherited all the brains and John (or Susie) got left." The brain can also be damaged during pregnancy or at birth.

THE JUVENILE DIABETIC

Mrs. J. writes: Why can't diabetic children use the new pills?

REPLY

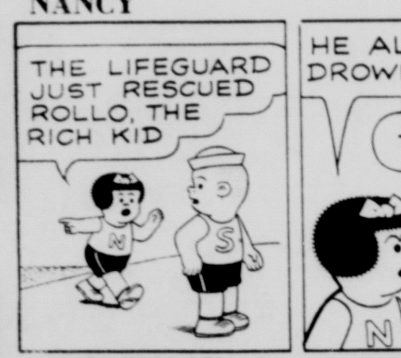

Because in juvenile diabetes the pancreas cannot be stimulated to form an adequate amount of insulin. Antidiabetic tablets work best in older persons who usually have a milder form of the disease. The insulin-producing cells are more active than they are in diabetic children.

Teen Leaders at 4-H Camp

There were four Warren County 4-H Club teen leaders who left Monday morning for the Pennsylvania State 4-H Leadership Training Camp at Camp Kanawake, in Huntingdon County.

They include Bob Hagberg, Swede Holloway, Marcia Wilcox, Lander, and from Cobham Park 4-H Club, Barbara Perschke and Louann Greenwood. Mrs. Frank Wilcox drove the four young people to camp.

During their four-day stay these delegates will be improving their talents in group leadership, handicrafts, recreation, camp rules and regulations, etc. With them are delegates from other counties throughout the Commonwealth.

The camp sessions are in charge of Jerry Rayburn, assistant Pennsylvania 4-H leader from Penn State University.

Three of the Warren County group will be junior counselors at the annual Northwest Pennsylvania 4-H Camp Forest, in July, near Meadville. All 4-H Club members of Warren County are eligible to attend.

Torpedo Horse Club Meets

By ARDEN SMITH

The Torpedo Hoof and Nail 4-H Horse Club met at the residence of Robert E. Smith in Torpedo, June 6.

It was decided that at the next meeting the discussion would be about reining horses.

The 4-H pledge was given by Norman Perschke, associate county agent.

The president announced that Dr. Samuel Guss, Extension Veterinarian from Penn State University will meet with all horse club members and others interested at Starbrick fire hall at 8 p.m. Thursday, June 12. Guss will speak on "First Aid for Your Horse, and What to Have in Your Medicine Chest."

The new club advisor appointed Nancy Smith as teen-leader. All who may be interested in becoming members are invited to attend the next meeting of the Torpedo Hoof and Nail Club. For information call 489-7923 or 563-7394.

Next meeting will be held at the Arden Smith residence on Route 6, west of Youngsville. The club expressed its thanks to Norman Perschke and Robert Smith for helping at the meeting.

Freemans Attend U.S.A.F. Academy Graduation

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph H. Freeman, their daughter Nita and son Bart, who is graduating with the Warren Area High School Class of 1969, have returned from Colorado Springs, Colorado, where they attended the graduation of their son Ralph Herbert Freeman from the U.S. Air Force Academy on Wednesday, June 4, 1969, which was addressed by President Richard Nixon.

They also attended the baccalaureate service Sunday, June 1, at the air force academy chapel.

Ralph Herbert Freeman reports at the University of California in Los Angeles Monday, June 16, for post-graduate work in the field of business administration. He will be majoring in quantitative methods, while on active duty as a 2nd Lieutenant in the U.S. Air Force. He is one of 20 out of his class to be selected to undertake this particular training. He was 227th in a class of 685 graduating.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph H. Freeman report the baccalaureate service in the new Air Force chapel was an awe-inspiring experience, with the sun streaming through magnificent stained glass windows, and the mountains and clouds visible through smoked glass windows looking out on the great scenic splendor of the region.

Upon his graduation from Warren Area High School, Bart Freeman leaves July 9 for Parris Island for boot camp training in the U.S. Marine Corps, in which he has enlisted for three years.

LEGAL NOTICE
IN THE COURT OF COMMON PLEAS OF WARREN COUNTY, PENNSYLVANIA, JACK WILLARD STEADMAN versus EVA C. SANFORD, WILLIAM C. WALKER, ROBERT E. LEYENDECKER and CHRISTINE M. LEYENDECKER, his wife, ROBERT E. LEYENDECKER, INC., their respective heirs, devisees, personal representatives, successors and assigns, generally, No. 42 May Term 1969

ACTION TO QUIET TITLE
TO: The Defendants, above named, their heirs, devisees, personal representatives, successors and assigns, generally:

You are hereby notified that the Plaintiff above-named has filed a Complaint and term in the Court of Common Pleas of Warren County, Pennsylvania, averring that he is the owner of a certain piece or parcel of land situate in Eldred Township, Warren County, Pennsylvania, being a part of Tract No. 80, bounded and described as follows:

BEGINNING at a point in the public road leading from Trimm's Corners to Ray's Corners, corner of land conveyed to George M. Ott by deed of Eva S. Sanford dated December 7, 1922, and recorded in Deed Book 147, page 633; thence south 43 rods, more or less, to the south line of the tract; thence west along said south line 33 rods to a point about 42 rods east of the southwest corner of the tract; thence north to the public road, said point being the southwest corner of lands conveyed to Smith Eastman by deed of Salem H. Saxton and wife dated June 2, 1896, and recorded in Deed Book 79, page 639; thence easterly along the public road 34 rods to the place of beginning, containing 10 acres, more or less.

BEING the same premises which Elmer Van Guilder et ux by deed dated October 10, 1960, recorded in Warren County Deed Book 314, page 536, conveyed to the Plaintiff herein.

The merchantability of the said premises is affected by failure of the records of Warren County to disclose the following items:

(1) Notification of a Treasurers Sale of the premises assessed to Robert E. Leyendecker, Inc., in 1946 for unpaid 1944 taxes.
(2) Notification of a Treasurers Sale of the premises assessed to William C. Walker in 1930 for unpaid 1927 taxes.
(3) Payment to Robert E. Leyendecker and Christine M. Leyendecker, or either of them, of a certain balance of money which was to have been paid them on or before September 1, 1947, pursuant to terms of conveyance to B. Lazrus et al.
(4) Payment of a certain debt to Eva C. Sanford secured by a mortgage dated December 7, 1922 covering the said premises.

You are required to answer the said Complaint on file in the Prothonotary's Office of said Court within twenty (20) days from the publication of this notice or judgment by default will be entered against you.

REED'S LIVESTOCK COMMISSION SALE

Young in ideas - old in experience. Reed Sales Stables at Kimball Stand, 4 mi. N. of Jamestown on Rt. 60 Thurs. June 12th.

Thursday sale was average size with dairy replacements selling steady to stronger. Bob calves sold stronger, veal sold easier, due to annual slump at strawberry time. We believe Thursday's beef market was the strongest in some time.

Janet Crowell, S. Dayton, sold top consigned cow. For this sale, due to illness, Gerald Boland, Clymer, will sell his Holstein dairy, 31 lbs. including 4 colored cows, (1 reg. Guernsey) consisting of 14 cows due from July to Dec., 6 due in Jan. 6 due in Feb. & March. 5 freshen within the last 6 weeks. These cows are first, second & third calves with light udders. 26 milking 33 cans of milk daily. If you need milk be with us Thursday.

For trucking your cattle to our sale call: Sherman, 761-4411 collect or Russell 757-8147 or Sugar Grove 489-7745. Use both of our certified markets to assure yourself of competitive bidding the best way.

Chesley's Livestock Auctions Sales every Monday at 1 PM Route no. 3, North East, Pa. Warren area residents, phone Sugar Grove 489-3204 for trucking. Delmas Chesley & Sons Owners & Auctioneers, N. East 725-7386 or 725-1171. Complete auction service.

MRS.
NANCY GORTON
SAVED $3.41 AT
ACME DISCOUNT
SUPERMARKETS !

"I saved $3.41 shopping at ACME," says Mrs. Nancy Gorton.

"After I had paid for my groceries, the Acme Store Manager asked me to help prove the Acme GUARANTEED SAVINGS policy."

"He asked me to duplicate my Acme order item for item in any store I chose. I did it, and the results were fantastic! My groceries cost $3.41 more at the other store."

"With savings like that, it's no wonder Acme's guaranteed savings are becoming so popular."
